ABOUT

History

The pub derived its current name in the aftermath of the 1798 rebellion when after a 60 second trial by Alderman of Dublin City and judge to the prerogative court sentenced John Claudius Beresford, one of Dublin's most notorious character's, and 5 other men to be hanged at the spot outside the tavern where they were arrested. The tree that they were hanged from became known as the Big Tree and over the years the tavern became known as the Big Tree Tavern.

The Tavern has been on the site since 1543 originating as an Inn. Back in the medieval days it was famously known as the "Rose Tavern".

Location

The Big Tree Pub is located on the junction of Dorset Street and North Circular Road, just ten minutes from Dublin City Centre. Croke Park Stadium is just two a minute drive or five minute walk from The Big Tree. Also conveniently located to the Dublin Convention Centre (10 minutes), all major tourist attractions and Dublin Airport (25 minutes). Coach parking is available at entrance.
